Summary: 6 weeks after halo 4 campign John wants to see some old freinds, plus I suck at summaries so just read to find out please review it to correct and see what you want just so you know you probably should not read this if you haven't read the halo novels EG Fall Of Reach

1. Chapter 1

6 weeks after new pheanix incident.

John, was at his UNSC hotel room on Earth out of his armor which was stashed near his hotel just in case he changed his mind of his leave, still mourning the loss of Cortana it truly hit him like a bullet. Chief then got up and went to his computer searched public views on the spartan II's there much on them, ONI kept it very secret these day

He stopped looking at the computer and went to his terminal with a UNSC screensaver and checked the archives

"search, Spartan Kelly-087, Frederic-104 and Linda-058"he said it came up with a AI on the screen dressed like a man in an early 21'st century tuxedo,

"all these Spartans are active and are the only known surviving spartan II's other than yourself ,Petty officer 117, what would you like to know?" the AI asked.

"Are these Spartans are they active duty?" John asked.

"They have all been temporaraily decommissioned 6 months ago due to secretive reasonsfor the office ofnavel intelligence, and are staying at new Mombossa, they have been put near each other for their own personal reasons." the IA said to John.

"Send me a pelican to transport me to their location." John, said.

"Yes petty officer 117." The AI confirmed.

Looks like it was time for John to see some old friends.

**Thats my first chapter on the new halo story, next will see a bit of violence and the old gang getting back together, note that you probably won't understand most of this if you havent read the novels, like fall of Reach, if your lucky you'll see them armoring up together if I get enough support in this story, thanks.**

2. Chapter 2

**fair info in advance of this story, there will be action and there will definitely be a swits or two.**

Chief finally arrived at mobossa in his armor and found a bar.

Chief entered the bar, it was very busy, little expensive for a bar, although nothing a fully paid spartan couldn't pay for. Chief walked around for a little while, strangely hardly anybody noticed him in his armor.

He then saw a man, playing poker with some very aggravated looking men, heh had two very tall women, one blonde the other brunnete the man skar on his eye, all instantly recognisable to almost only John.

"What can I say boys, I'm the worlds luckiest spartan!" Fred, said, with a smile on his face.

"Second." John said, all three looked to hm and looked speechless, recognising him even behind the helmet Kelly walked over to him as fast as, well as fast as Kelly ever was and rapped her arms around him he accepted with a little bit of surprise.

She let go of him, Then ,Linda took her place, then she let go, then Fred grapped his hand then took them into a hug.

The emotion was inturrupted when a plasma rifle fire sounod went off, every one ducked behind cover. The four Spartans looked up from their cover theeps Saw five sangheli terrorists likely rogue, with heavy weaponry.

"Nothing changes" the four of them said in unison.

3. Chapter 3

**Copied one idea in this chapter off iron man 3 also sorry for any spelling problems, the grammar check is very glitchy, in this scene, fight fight fight!**

"So any chance of a plan?" John asked, Fred.

"Hey, your the boss." Fred said.

"Ok, so there's about a dozen of em." Chief said after looking over the desk. "there's know this is a councidence they know I'm here, looks like there a rouge team, zealots by there armor."

"what's that shinie gun the big ones carrying looking at the sangheli most likely the leader. Chief looked at the the elite, he was shocked when he saw that it was carrying an incinaration cannon, last he saw of them was on Reqium.

"that's promethean tech.. Long story." John said. "okay scrap rogue these guys are apart of some kind of cult, we have to take that guys out main target, that guns the most dangerous of them." chief said not fully explaining "Okay but I could sure kill for some armor." Kelly, said.

"your right." John said as a pulled out a small pistol looking object and shot needles.

"what the-" Kelly, said

"guys listen, I want you to just go and to the elites. Remember watch the big one.

"what we haven't even got any armor?" Fred, said.

"just trust me." with with that in the direction of the elites.

"Hey I'm with him." Kelly said.

Then ran then followed by the other two with a dangerous grin on their faces suddenly while sprinting to the elites they suddenly saw that smallpieces of technology looking things were being flying and attached to their body as they sprinted just they were about to slam into the enemy forces, they realissed the objects were their MJLNOR armor then the helmets came over their heads and constructed themselves onto their heads and their sheilds came up. Except for Fred's as his armour was not yet fully assembled, that's knew, Fred thought.

Fred went to slam into the first elites jaw by surprise, the arm and fist of his armou finally arrived then slammed into the elites jaw and crack, taking them all by surprise, Fred grabbed the plasma rifle the elite was holding as it callapsed unconscious and Fred shot it dead, Kelly slammed into what looked like the second in command tackled him to the ground, the ground, the elite in charge was changing to a binary rifle aimed to shoot her in the head while she was fighting the charge on the ground then chief Sneaked up on him and tried to knife him in his throat from behind, but the great warrior looked behind him and punched the master chief while off guard.

Fred was taking care of the lesser elites while Linda, helped him, Kelly was still struggling with the elite she tackled, she rolled over so she was on top, then the infuriated sangheli kicked her in the gutt and she went flying backwards, when she was about to make hard landing she reacted and tried to do a backflip but she was to close to the ground, she landed on her stomach, she saw an Elites shotgun, it was strange that anrelat use would human weaponry, she thought, then realised their must a armory somewhere In the bar, many bars had an armory lately just as prection in case, terrorists came knocking, or banging.

Kelly, grabbed the shotgun along with a magnum next to it, saw the elite she well and truly pissed off sprinting towards her, just as it got close, she shot the beast it's shields died quick, then she shot it again it knelt down excusted and in pain, Kelly had the pistol in her other hand then shot it in the head while it was down.

Chief was struggling to get his elite, down still after ten minutes he kicked its incinaration cannon to the floor, the sangheli tried to puch chief but chiefs reflected and grabbed his fist and slammed his fist into the generals head, backflipped jumps towards the cannon, so he wasn't to close to the elite, shot the elite and little orange lights came out of the weapon and killed sent the elite flying backwards and slowly distagrating while in the air.

The battle was won.

John looked around all his friends" not bad team" Linda, said, chief then saw a live elite motally wounded.

Chief still had a question that needed answering,

"who are you?" chief ordered the elite.

"We are the true, believers, you this battle is won, more will come for you, demon!" The wounded elite said before death took him.

4. Chapter 4

**sorryDoor ry about the delay guys. Got a treat for you guys now.**

"you think your a hero don't you, John?"

"Sam, what the hell" John said probably speechless, you could Never really tell with the chief.

"You let me die, you ordered me to my death, you ran while I was left to die."Sam said bitterly.

"you would have died anyway." John said, almost harshly.

"doesn't mean you should just run off and leave me." Sam said.

"If I could swap with you then I would."Chief said remorse hitting him like a bullet.

"Right." sam said, laughing."Because you have nothing to live for." Sam, said sarcastically.

"you think your indestructible don't you." Said a voice that was eating at his head for months. John turned To see his best friend.

Cortana was human height a bit shorter than bright blue.

"Cortana, Your..." The chief said but realised it wasn't nearly possible.

"You promised me you'd save me. You promised me i'd be okay." Cortana said a tear going down her digital eye.

"i am so sorry.."

"Your promises mean nothing do they!?" She yelled turning red a power surge sending him flying backwards.

"I always told you remember don't make a promise.." Cortana said before being cut off.

"if you know you can't keep it, I really did try to save you." John said.

"IT WASN'T ENOUGH THOUGH WAS IT!"

John awoke sitting on the pelican headed back to the UNSC hotel, with his friends by his side.

5. Chapter 5

Still** sorry about the delay, please read and review.** the chief and the team, were getting stuff from the hotel, they took everything, guns, armor, jetpacks and so on. They were ready for a war, even though there was no warning for a battle they could all feel something.

"Okay Guys, lets go." Then the chief heard the tv on the blink.

the chief turned the terminal on.

"chief, we need you on the ship now." Lasky, said.

"What is it captain?" The chief asked.

"it'll be better if we told you here." Lasky, told the chief."

"Where are you?" John asked.

"Right above your hotel."

John looked confused, then pressed a button to open the window. Then saw the biggest ship he ever saw, the infinity.

John walked through the halls of the infinity with his team in there armour then onto the deck.

"With all due respect sir, do you really have to be such a show off." The spartan legend asked.

"what's the point of having the biggest ship in the whole Force if ya can't show it off once in a while?" Tom asked, turning around seeing the four of them in exactly the same armor." uh chief, which one are you?" Lasky asked confused.

the chief raised his hand.

"Right, shoot me if you like, the armour, but do you guys want new armour." Lasky asked.

"Go on." The chief said, they went with Palmer, for new spartan Iv armour, so the could tell eachother, chief had to admit even he was getting them mixed up.

"So, whats this all about?" John asked.

"Chief, honestly I think you better tell your team this yourself." Lasky said.

"tell them what?"

his team came in, Fred was wearing a blue and red striped camando armour, Linda typically a scout in dark brown armour, and kelly a soldier armour with black armour and red, with a strider helmet, they all had their numbers printed onto there torsos.

"guys, you better sit down." John said After being told of the matter.

"what is it Chief?" Fred asked, they all took their new helmets off.

"It's Halsey..." John said delicately

"What happened? Is she okay?" Kelly asked suddenly.

"she's been kidnapped." John, said. "By a rogue armada of covenant, like the ones that attacked us." The master chief said to his friends."They were trying to gain access to a forerunner... Don't ask, the forerunner we assume gave Halsey a key, in two pieces, a spartan 4 team was sent to retrieve her, but it was to late they already teleported her, but we did get,half the key, it tells us every single piece of forerunner tech. We assume, the covenant have taken her to one of the forerunner structures that the covenant know of."

"Can we narrow it down." Fred, asked.

"No, we don't know wether she's in another halo, or another piece of forerunner structure."

"Well, actually chief, the half we have shows us everyone of the halos we didn't know of, except one so she may have been taken there, that's why we need you, you have more experience scowering the rings than any UNSC soldier. If we find the ring we might just find her." Lasky said.

Now they knew that, they were going to find their creator.

**okay so, there is that chapter, tell me what you think, I'll probably messenger you back for the reviews.**

**okay guys got this far, wanted to give the gang their own armour except chiefs that armour it's basically a symbol on him, not going see Halsy in this chapter, just them and infinity trying to find where she is, but I promise explosions.**

TOWER, FORERUNNER STRUCTURE. A halo

"Chief on your six!" Fred yelled warning the chief. an elite came to stab John with an energy sword, it kicked his assault rifle out of his arms then went to chop him in half. he grabbed the arm the sangheli zelot was using to hold the blade, punched its gut taking the weapon out of its reach, John quickly grabbed his magnum and shot its head.

"Chief, we need to get out of the tower."

"We still gotta hgot what we came for."

"kelly hurry." Feed said.

"got it "she said. Opening a door "cover the doors ill be back in a sec.

she saw a huge hall and a big lift coming down, she got on and it automatically rose." I've nearly got it guys" she said through the coms

"just hurry." Chief said" there's a lot of contacts down here" He said putting a plasma grenade into a hunters back, then jumping off it kicking an elite that straddled Fred e distracting it, Fred then snapped its neck, while it was off guard. The room was now clear of contacts.

"thanks, chief." Fred said getting up taking a plasma pistol and his assault rifle.

"Don't mention it." Chief said grabbing his assault rifle and his unusual weapon of choice the shotgun. More phantoms arrived by the tower."you ready for another round.?"

"Just getting warmed up"

Kelly finally accessed the object "boys I got it" Kelly said.

"get down here we need to go, we got less than five minutes before infinity blow ness this place to kingdom come." The chief said.

"WHAT?"Both Kelly and Fred said.

"didn't I mention that in the plan?"John asked.

Kelly jumped down the elevator shaft she knew there wasn't enough time now. She used her jetpack to slow down towards the bottom but still landed hard, and fell on her back. She got up and got to the room with the guys in.

"Let's go" she said to them

John shot a sangheli about to take a headshot behind Kelly then shot a window.

"you realise we are 5 miles above the surface."Fred said.

"yep" john confirmed.

"love this job." Kelly they all jumped.

"Spartan, get over here." Chief said over the com to someone."remember guys time it perfectly or were dead." Chief said to his friends.A pelican came round and closer to the team the all shot grappling hooks at the pelican then took them away with it.

"good job linda"Chief said. Getting inside the pelican.

"Lasky we have the map. Blow it to hell sir." John said Over the network

"with pleasure chief." Lasky said over the blew the tower to the ground.

"So you got the co-ordinates." 056 asked.

"Spartan, get over here." Chief said over the com to someone."remember guys time it perfectly or were dead." Chief said to his friends.A pelican came round and closer to the team the all shot grappling hooks at the pelican then took them away with it.

"good job linda"Chief said. Getting inside the pelican.

"Lasky we have the map. Blow it to hell sir." John said Over the network

"with pleasure chief." Lasky said over the blew the tower to the ground.

"So you got the co-o

"that we do." kelly said.

**bet you guys forgot or thought that I forgot Linda then didn't ya remember to review**

7. Chapter 7

**Okay so today I thought I'd do a calm very romantic atmosphere with no violence. NOT!** the chief was in his bed quarters on most ships people useally had to share rooms, but infinity's two and half mile length ahead it's advantages so most Spartans and staff had they're own rooms. John simply couldn't sleep, hadn't done for 65 hours, cortana was still haunting him.

chief walked to the canteen, after putting on his armorhe may not need it, he felt naked without it. He was sat at a table alone in his armor.

"couldn't sleep?" A voice asked, he looked to see Lasky standing in front of him.

"slept for five years, think I've had my fill." 117 said, drinking a bear bottle, he wasn't drunk though, since his augmentation it took a lot more to get him drunk. Lasky sat down in front of him.

"Chief I found this yesterday in the salvages from the didact's shipwreck. I was looking through for stuff to use on the ship." Lasky said pulling out a burnt AI chip. "I already checked its empty, nothing in there." Lasky told him, John took it.

"Thank you." John said. They heard the red alert alarm sound. "What the hell?"

"It's the alarm, we're under attack." Lasky, said John put his helmet on. "Let's get to armoury 5. It's just outside the canteen."

"What do you think Prometheuns or Covenant?" John asked just passing the door, both of them heading to the armoury.

"Ten dollars says covys." Lasky said.

"Done." The chief said. Then an elite jumped out nearly stabbed chief, then he ducked, grabbed the sanghelis arm snapped its bone, grabbed the sword and stabbed it. All in under five seconds. "I'll pay you later." Chief said A little aggravated, Tom should be glad chiefs on his size.

they reached the armoury. They saw twelve elites armed to the teeth. "Boys I'm gonna give you two choices. One I brake every bone in you pr body in just under thirty seconds or you can surrender. Your choice." The chief threatened them without even a knife. The elites laughed at them.

"lasky you may wanna wait outside."

ONE MINUTE LATER

He opened the door Every single one of the elites were now dead. the chief was holding a saw and magnum, with a jetpack. "Don't say I didn't warn em." Chief said Walking out.

"Nice."

**right so that's comedy emotion and action all in one, continues next chapter.**

8. Chapter 8

**Sorry it's been a while, the reason I'm updating now is that I really love this story it's my favourite anyway full of action and a hint of comedy here's chapter 8, also you should note that some of my other newer stories I've had problems with the ipad glitching and changing the grammer especially spellings so should keep it in mind that its not all my fault.**

Chapter 8

Lasky and chief ran tore they're way through some of the ship mostly without considerable struggle but mostly because of chief though, he was shooting guns constantly at what seemed like infinite enemy's most of them were elites, rarely seeing jackels or grunts luckily so far no hunters, they were getting close to the deck, there was even more heat there.

chief shot at the hostiles and Lasky with him, then Lasky suddenly felt a spike hit right through his knee cap, he cried out in agony. John pushed him slightly hard across the corner for cover them kicked over a shotgun for him to protect himself in case some covenant came running. Chief took out half the elites now then ran out of ammo and no more guns near him he took his dagger out of his chest pocket then smashed the rest in the face and cut they're throats and snapping some of they're necks.

Chief went back to Lasky "You okay?" Chief asked, he nodded he grabbed him and put him over Johns shoulder carrying him he got to the door "Kelly open the door." Chief ordered over the coms relay on his arm, the doors opened and they went through Kelly was in front of the door pointing her gun down the corridor then closed the door. John put Tom down next to the holo table for him to lean on it. Fred was looking at a live projection on the table showing life signs across the ship, most of it was now at the hanger bay

. "Where's ,Linda?" John asked Fred on the opposite side of the table.

"She's at the hanger bay with fire team crimson holding back the ships trying to get on the ship." Fred said zooming on the hanger with seven green dots representing Crimson and Linda and a lot more red dots disappearing but then reappearing red dots showing the covenant.

"Doesn't look like its working." John said pointing out something a bit obvious, "okay Why haven't they just put the shields back up?" 117 asked

"A phantom flew in when they lowered the shields to let a falcon in, they're first target was the shield controls." Fred told John.

"Any other options to help out?" John asked, Fred waved his hand rotating the hologram them tilting it making the bottom facing John. "There's the engine room with secondary controls to all shields in there but there was a risk of radiation normal engine radiation the suits could protect them from he hadn't encountered forerunner engines like this before.

"what's the radiation like in the Engine room right now?" Fred got the radiation measure up on the screen. "It's covering round about 65% of the room but as long as we're not in there for over about twenty to thirty minutes tops, the our shields should cover us up till then." Fred told them.

"Okay you and me will go to the engine room bring the shield and hanger doors back up." John ordered Fred "Kelly you stay here call out any tangos coming our way, there's probably hostiles there already, so lock the doors behind us don't want any more coming in." John ordered her.

John and Fred were running through the corridors snapping the necks of elites while passing them in under two seconds each, they looked round the corner and saw LOTS of elites, they stood there in silence for two seconds with the elites looking at them the two of them looking slightly scared. " think we should sit this out."

"Yeah" John said they ran the next corner sprinting to the door they saw it on the opposite side of the corridor John grabbed a rocket launcher mounted on the wall." Kelly close the door now." Chief ordered running closer to the door the door started to descend they jumped into prone position sliding just as the door was about to be sealed John shot a rocket out under the door killing most of the covenant, the door sealed leaving the covenant outside. They turned around the room it was massive, it was enough to fill a twentieth century airport, covering a large percentage of the room was the engine there were plenty of hostiles there, lots of them were hunters, "Great" Both of them said, after about twenty minutes they had killed most of the hunters, planting grenades, plasma grenades and kicking fusion coils into them as well.

They started to feel drossy, Fred fell down exhausted, John stayed up but felt as bad, he helped him up, they needed to get to the controls now. John ran to the controls shooting elites along the bridge. He got to one of the control panels, he was about to bring the shields up but was then hit by a hunter and was sent flying missing the bridge going down he hit the floor about twenty foot down from the panel, he looked next to him ,to see an armoury, he struggled to get up almost collapsing he started to get very aggressive the hunter jumped down to him, it ran at him hitting him flying through the armoury window, again he struggled to get up mostly because the radiation was getting strong he got a jet pack and sparten, and walked out and tried to fly but the hunter grabbed him throwing him back this was very unusual for him the radiation was making him smash like glass the hunter pointed its canon with chief on the ground trying to get up but the creature dropped dead. Chief looked up and saw Fred with a sniper rifle. Chief got up with great struggle again very little of it was because his injury but of the radiation he flew up to the panel touching It raising the hanger shields and sealing its doors.

on the other side of the ship one last phantom got into the hanger before the doors sealed out came an elite with a hand painted on his armour recognised and feared by all spartan IV s. Jul Andama he came out grabbing by the throat raising him off the ground, a nearby spartan from Crimson snapping his neck. Linda was now angry and ran to the elite, slamming him in the face cracking his helmet the beast looked back to Linda, she ran to him slamming his gut hurting him,"You don't look so tough." She taunted him. She ran with a magnum in her arm but he grabbed her arm then grabbed the other arm putting them both in one hand then took off her helmet throwing it then taking off his own, she spat on his face he grabbed her mouth"look into my eyes." He said she didn't he punched her face and making her barely conscious she looked into his eyes."I see no fear," He said grimly grabbing her dagger from her chest knife pocket, "They usually do, I'm impressed," He said them quickly stabbed her near her heart she felt agony then he saw her fear."That's better." He dropped her then kicked her gut, then took her knife.

"NOOO" Fred's voice yelled. He ran next to chief then Andama kicked a fusion coil at them then threw a grenade from Linda's belt they exploded sending them flying, by the time they got up Andama was gone they ran to Linda and rolled her from her side to her back Fred checked her pulse "she's alive." Fred told chief. "You gotta go get that bastard." Fred told him, Chief hesitated he wanted to stay with them, but he had to get Jul. He ran out the door across the corridor "Kelly I need medics at the hanger bay and find me that son of a bitch." John said jogging across the corridor "Already done and he's heading to the lab six." John stopped dead in his tracks knowing what he wanted "he's going for the latch key." He realised, "Kelly get to the lab I'll meet you there." Chief said sprinting faster than fast.

Kelly got to the lab and didn't see anyone in there "Doc?" Kelly called out she looked across the other side of the table and saw Glasman dead and blood all over the place, John got in the room "it's to late John ."

"He'll head back to the hanger." John realised telling her.

They ran for the hanger they got there they saw Andama heading for his phantom getting in he escaped in there no sign of Fred and Linda, he and Kelly headed for a pelican that was starting to take off and the door opening for Kelly and John they got in the pelican took off with them, after the phantom the got to the cockpit seeing Fred. "I thought you were with ,Linda?" John asked.

"She'll make it, she always does. Lets go get this bastard."

9. Chapter 9

**Im sorry guys that I haven't updated lately, I'm gonna update within the a month or so hopefully, I had forgotten about this story because I've been playing with my mates lately.**
